Principal's Comment:

As we farewelled Room 9 to camp yesterday it highlighted how our curriculum is broader than just Literacy and Numeracy. The New Zealand Curriculum is a broad and diverse document that enables schools to ensure the whole child is catered for, from learning to add, to being a self-organised learner. It covers thinking, making sense of language, to enterprise and citizenship. Mr Van de Molen has organised another great week for our senior students full of physical and mental challenges.

A massive thank you to all the parents and whanau who have supported the camp through food donations, transport and their time. I will report back over the week as I head out to Waihi today.

Linda Larsen, Principal
