Principal's Comment:

The new worksafe regulations came into force yesterday but it was business as usual for us at Te Poi School. The new requirements have meant we need to identify potential risks and hazards around our school, on trips and any education outside the classroom. It will not stop us climbing trees, having an adventure playground or flying fox. What it will mean is that we identify these to parents on enrolment and gain your acceptance of the potential risks involved in playing in such an environment. As a school we already have checks and procedures in place for any adult working with children, rules around using private cars and full risk analysis forms for all trips outside our local area. So, for us it's business as usual but being mindful of hazards.

Linda Larsen, Principal
