Principal's Comment:

Nau mai haere mai.

As we head into the last week of October, and hopefully the last week of the southerly winds, we also head into our last week of relative calm before term 4 extra curriculum events are upon us. It is important to keep regular routines of reading, spelling, basic fact revision and homework going. The staff are keeping their professional learning updated with new work from our digital curriculum facilitator and ongoing in service with our math facilitator.

School is a busy day for children with many extra activities on offer. Some of the present activities include kapa haka, Te Reo lessons, enviro schools, chess club, ukulele, singing, football, touch training, basketball and Thursday games in the library. Many of our extra activities rely on volunteers.

I have three more weeks in this role until Linda returns on the 18th November. Ka kite
